Part 1: QUESTIONS 1–10

Lesen Sie den Text durch und kreuzen Sie an, ob die folgenden Aussagen richtig oder falsch sind.

The Life of an Event Manager

The life of an event manager is very hard. It is one of the hardest jobs on the planet. In the summer you must work outside when it is really hot and the sun is burning on you. And you will be on the road most of the time, away from you family.

If you are not very social and if you don't like having people around, then it is not a good idea for you to become an event manager because in that job you always work with other people.

Another thing is that you will not have fixed working hours in this field. Sometimes you must work 36 hours in one stretch. Your working day could also start at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Organizing trade shows is really hard, not only because you must think of every single step but also because you must run around the whole time. For that reason you should be absolutely fit as an event manager.

Many young people dream of becoming rich. As an event manager this is only possible if you plan to start you own business and are not afraid of losing money.

So remember: If you want a job from 9 am to 5 pm from Monday until Friday and earn good money, then you should start a career in the computer business and not in the event management. If, however, you are flexible and you don't mind working late, getting up early, being on the road and meeting all kinds of people without being rich, then you are the perfect person for this job.
